136 LOSE LIVES WHEN SHIP BURNS

VESSEL BURNS IN MID-OCEAN. HELP SUMMONED BY WIRELESS SAVES MANY.

London, Oct. 12.—Forty of the 136 people lost from the steamship Volturino in mid-Atlantic were in the two boats which succeeded in getting away from the burning vessel and which, without doubt, were swamped. The majority of the others who lost their lives were in four other boats which were smashed against the steamer's sides in attempts to launch them.

All this occurred before the arrival of the Carmania and the other liners summoned by the wireless calls for help. The Carmania, with one lone survivor of the Volturino aboard found it too rough to stop at Queens-town and is proceeding direct to Fish guard. From that Survivor, however, comes a thrilling story of the burning of the steamer; of the terror; of the struggle for the boats; the death of those who went over the sides and his own desperate fight for life.

Arthur Spurgeon, a passenger on the Carmania, in a wireless dispatch supplements his own description of the fate of the Carmania to the burning vessel and the rescue of the passengers of the Volturino by the story told him by the survivor, Walter Trintepohl, a German, who swam to the Carmania and was rescued in an exhausted condition.

Since being taken aboard the Carmania, Trintepohl has been in the ship's hospital, threatened with pneumonia. He told his story to Mr. Spurgeon before he became seriously ill, but owing to his exhausted state and his broken English his account of the disaster was somewhat incoherent.

Trintepohl had been employed at Barcelona and took third-class passage on the Volturino to secure a position offered him in New York.

"All went well," said Trintepohl, "until 6 o'clock Thursday morning, when the fire alarm sounded. We were aroused and told to go on deck, as fire had broken out in the hold. On assembling, life belts were handed around and much time was occupied in fastening them. We were told that the fire would soon be quenched, but the captain thought it wise for all to have belts as a precaution.

The fire frightened the children, who cried loudly. There were many lamps in staterooms. The fire grew worse, and the smoke down below.

and instead of quieting the passengers they made the panic worse.

"The first officer took charge of the first boat, but although he wanted the women and children saved first a majority of those who entered the boats were members of the crew.

"This boat was smashed against the ship's side. Just as it reached the water it broke in two and all in it were drowned.

"Meanwhile attempts were made to lower the second boat. I can not say who was in charge of this, but I do know that after the chief steward had thrown provisions in he jumped in himself. There were more men than women and children in this boat, which did not go down, for it was broken against the ship and all were drowned. The two boats were amid-ship. Three other boats were put out aft. The fourth officer was in one of them, but I can not say which one. All was confusion. The ropes broke and the occupants were thrown into the water and killed or drowned. When the captain saw what had happened he cut the tackle of the other boats so that they could not be launched.

Hobson and Underwood are opponents in the race for the U. S. Senate from Alabama. It remains to be seen whether Hobson's exploits at Santiago will outweigh Underwood's exploit in putting the tariff bill through.

The county commissioners of Coal county have served notice through the press that any man swearing in the room where they are assembled will be fined $5. That is certainly going some, for we thought it was the undeniable privilege of a citizen of Oklahoma to cuss the commissioners at any old time and place.

Guthrie is having all sorts of fun trying to recall the mayor, who was elected for a six year term. He seems to be satisfied with his job, however, and not at all anxious to have the people pass judgment on his conduct. No doubt he is wise in this decision, for what the Guthrie papers say about him is true the office needs a change.

Ham Patterson, the man who split the Democratic party of Tennessee, and who has always been a strong champion of the liquor interests, has undergone a change of heart and is making speeches advocating prohibition and law enforcement. Incidentally it is said that he may make this his platform in another race for governor or the U. S. Senate.

Evidently Mexico has not changed much since the days of Santa Anna. Huerta is following his methods of firing congress and declaring himself the whole works. However, it will be remembered that Santa Anna never got away with the goods very long and Huerta might do well to bear that in mind. Looks very much like his latest move for the "pacification" of Mexico will be about like trying to put out fire by pouring gasoline on it.

Gov. Cruce comes back at the criminal court of appeals and sticks to his first statement regarding that tribunal. He says he does not question the right of the court or anybody else to criticize his actions and he fails to see wherein any court is above criticism because of its power to consign men to jail if they pass a harsh opinion on it. In this instance we heartily agree with the governor. Courts are made up of men elected by the people and the fact that a man is on the bench does not mean that his conduct is at all times above criticism. He is the same man he was before he took his place on the bench and it is this very spirit of intolerance and gag rule that has brought many of the courts of the nation into disfavor with the people.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

MARRIAGE LEADS TO PERJURY CHARGE

Saturday afternoon a honeymoon was brought to a sudden close by a warrant charging the groom of one or two hours with perjury.

N. C. Conley and Eva Bolen, who live in the western part of the county were quietly married before the girl's mother and step-father had any inkling of what was up. As soon as they learned the state of affairs they swore out a warrant for perjury against the groom, stating that the girl was under fourteen. By this time the couple had left town but were overtaken about six miles out by Deputy Sheriff Duncan, who brought them back. The groom was held under a bond of $1,000 to appear at the next term of district court.

BUTTERFLY AERIALISTS COMING

Famous Parisian Act to Be Seen With Ringling Brothers Circus.

The three Ty-Bell sisters, the most daring of aerialists, will be seen in Ada on Friday Oct. 31 with Ringling Brother's circus in the sensational and dangerous "Human Butterfly Act," which created so much wonder in Europe last winter. During their recent tour of England and the continent of Europe they received the biggest salary which up to that time was ever paid for a single act. On this their first tour of America they are receiving even a larger amount. They are worth every cent of it.

Nothing like this act was ever seen before. Various inferior performances have masqueraded as aerial specialties, with the assistance of crude spectacular effects. They were merely common iron-jawed stunts of no interest whatever when analyzed. This is an act which is entrancing in an ethereal way, thrilling because of the danger entailed, and made marvelously beautiful by means of a battery of electric spot lights and calclums.

Holding by dental strength to slender steel threads, these Venus-like girls are elevated to the dome of the tent. By means of invisible mechanism above them, they are made to fly dart, piquette and circle like butterflies. They wear flowing angelic robes and have wings of fine spun glass. On these delicate back-grounds of pure white kaleidoscopic and pictorial effects are accomplished by means of electric projectors and traveling spot lights.

Spectators sit amazed and bewildered by the iridescent splendor of the sight above them. At the same moment their blood tingles with suspense when they think of the danger of the act. Here is a thriller of the most pronounced type, sure-fire, convincing and legitimate. It has a skill and a beauty about it that command profound attention.

The aerial features of this show are a century ahead of the times. There are performances to be seen high up in the dome of the tent that are entirely new to Americans. Among them are the Alpine family, wizards of the high-wire in the truest sense of the term; the LaFayettes, Europe's best double somersaulting trapeze artists; the Wards, Germany's best double trapeze artists and the famous Klarkonians.

The circus has a new parade, a doubled menagerie, the most remarkable company of foreign performers ever brought together, and begins its regular program with the sensational wordless play, "Joan of Arc," enacted on a stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theatres and with a cast of 1,200 characters, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, 600 horses and a trainload of costumes, properties and special scenery.

Pennsylvania Club Women.

Swarthmore, Pa., Oct. 13.—Several hundred delegates to the seventeenth convention of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women's Clubs are already in Swarthmore, and others are arriving on every train. Fully 500 are expected to attend the opening session of the convention tomorrow morning. The program, covering the entire week is declared to be the best ever prepared for a convention of the state organization. For the first time in its history the federation will discuss political problems. Woman's share in culture, some aspects of socialism and the social evil are among other matters that will receive attention.

"THE DIVORCE QUESTION"

William Anthony McGuire's play "The Divorce Question" will be produced at the City Hall Opera House under the direction of the National Play Co. Wednesday evening, Oct. 15. This gripping play was one of the sensational successes of the past season in Chicago, 125 performances being given at McVickers Theatre.

All intelligent people should be deeply interested in witnessing this great moral lesson. The play is a strong vitolic denunciation of modern conditions and every word counts for its full value as the story swings along to a big, startling conclusion. It is merciless in its condemnation of those guilty of social neglect and there is no mistaking the meaning of the lines; they are at once indomitable and brave.

The story of the play shows that pathetic phase of life wherein children are sacrificed to the selfishness of Divorce; there is too much said regarding the obligation of the parents; no human being has the right to become responsible for another's existence and then create conditions that ruin the life of that other being. A strong vibrating love story runs throughout and a pair of youthful lovers furnish abundant comedy.

"The Home of Courteous Treatment"

Mrs. Fiske at Palace.

Mrs. Fiske, one of America's foremost artists will again be shown in Thomas Hardy's masterpiece "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." This is a picture reproduction of the play under the direction of Daniel Frohman and is one of a series of famous dramatic productions being made by Mr. Frohman under the name of the Famous Players Company. So far he has shown James K. Hackett in the "Prisoner of Zenda," Sarah Barnhardt in "Queen Elizabeth," Mary Pickford in "The Bishop's Carriage," and now Mrs. Fiske in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." These productions will not only be of interest to the present generation but will be preserved as part of the history of the American stage.

In this production Mr. Frohman has surpassed in scenic splendor any motion picture production of recent months if not in the history of the motion picture world. The farm scenes are pretty enough to be pictures from dream land and the other settings have that English air that seems to stand out in ones mind when reading a typical English story.

Its probably improper to speak of the settings before mentioning the acting of such an artist as Mrs. Fiske, for her work is truly wonderful, fully worthy of a place among these series of famous player pictures. The story is told in five reels, much too long for review here. It is well worth the extra price made necessary by the great cost of the rights for production in Tulsa. Today will close the engagement. Last night people were turned away, so it is a good plan to visit the theatre this afternoon, thus avoiding the crowds that assuredly will appear again tonight.—World.

Henry Kendall College Crowded.

Tulsa, Ok., Oct. 13.—Authorities of Henry Kendall College report the institution for the first time in its history crowded to capacity, making it necessary to add two instructors to the faculty. An enrollment of at least 500 students for the year is predicted. Plans are now being formulated for the erection of a modern college gymnasium building for which the design is in hand. The building equipped in the manner desired will cost around $40,000 and will be the equal of anything in the state. President Hawley will soon inaugurate his Nation-wide campaign for a fund of $500,000 for endowment and new buildings which he hopes to secure within five years. Tulsa has given $40,000 to this fund.

HOPÍ INDIAN

SNAKE DANCE

(By E. A. MacMillan)

Shaungapavi, the well known Hopi and Chautauqua lecturer, furnished the writer, some years ago, a very vivid word picture of the snake dance which is still practiced among his people in the southwest.

The origin of this weird and uncanny ceremonial is shrouded in the mysticism of the dim past. Today its celebration is in reality a prayer for rain, and the belief in its efficacy is proverbial.

Three different snakes are used, the rattlesnake, the bull and the whip snakes. The last two are not venomous. Rarely are the participants bitten by the rattlers, due no doubt to the careful handling of them and to the "herding" of them from the time of capture to that of the dance.

The ceremony is divided into several complicated secret rites being the gathering of the snakes from far and near, the making of a sand altar, the washing and cleansing of the snakes, the weird and awful snake drama and lastly the races which are held on the morning of the public dance of the Snake clan of the tribe.

It appears that two clans—the Snake and the Antelope—participate in the opening service. The Antelopes are first to appear clad in the paraphernalia of their clan, fully painted and march to the ceremonial grounds.
They march four times around, stamping on a board placed in the east for the purpose, in notification to all that the demand for rain is to be made.
After this they form along the south side and sound the rattles when the Snake performers appear and face the Antelopes. The formal dance opens and intensifies in volume as the time progresses. When the performers begin leaping, the snake dancers form in groups of three and begin leaping and hopping until they reach a hut at the east side where are concealed the snakes and the snake passers—persons chosen for that duty. As each performer kneels a snake is passed to him and he grasps it in his mouth and rising begins the circling of the ground.

Each in turn receives his snake, and must encircle the ground four times.
When the circling has been completed the performer drops his snake and the snake passers pick them up and returns them to the hut.

During the progress of the encircling of the grounds women dressed in the costume of the tribe stand near the circle and scatter sacred corn meal over the performers.

After this part of the ceremony has been completed and all the snakes have made the circle of the grounds a picture is made on the ground in the sacred meal from which the priests believe they will be able to tell the result of the ceremony and especially after the snakes have indicated—after having been placed on the meal—what the God of Rain has told the snakes to do.

After this service has been completed, a wild scramble ensues in which all the snakes are caught and the performers are seen running in all directions each with a snake. After reaching a considerable distance from the ground the snakes are released and the performers return to the hut where an emetic drink is administered to each and a thorough purification of the body ensues.

The ceremony closed with a great tribal feast, the celebration of many games, the exchange of trinkets all indulged in by the tribe.

McALESTER KICKS ON SHAWNEE GAME

McAlester, Ok., Oct. 13.—Coach D.
T. Stiles of the McAlester high school football team will protest the game played Friday afternoon at Shawnee in which the locals were defeated by a score of 102 to 0. McAlester was clearly outplayed, Coach Stiles admits, but the Shawnee team was composed of men who out weighed the locals twenty-five pounds to the man and at least four of the Shawnee team were violating the high school association rules by playing when past the age of twenty-one, he says. Not only that, but, the Shawnee coach, who umpired the game, coached his team throughout the game, from the field.

The game was played on a muddy field, which gave the heavier men a decided advantage and took the spirit out of their lighter opponents.

McAlester was entitled to one touchdown, says Coach Stiles, which officials denied them, for alleged off-side play, merely because they didn't understand McAlester's silent signals.
It was on forward pass immediately after the kickoff, Long going over for a touchdown.

Evans, quarterback for Shawnee, was put out of the game when he and Troy, McAlester center, collided when diving for the ball. Troy went headon into Evans' stomach, causing it is thought, internal injuries. Troy's neck is stiff from the impact, Shinaberger returned with a severely injured thumb.

Music Class at Ahlosso.

Ahlosso, Ok.—Mr. B. A. Howard a singing teacher, living near Ada, and his brother Norman Howard, a student in the Ada Normal, who also has a claim to the musical profession, gave a musical demonstration here on Sunday, Oct. 21st inst. After the demonstration, the audience subscribed the requisite amount to pay for a singing school, to be taught by Mr.
Howard, beginning the first of next week. Prof. Myers, our literary teacher, was present with his enthusiasm and his smiles. When such men as he, get behind a proposition, it will surely go, regardless opposition from any source.

EASIER SAILING FOR CURRENCY BILL

Washington, Oct. 10.—Conservative expressions of Democrats known to be in close sympathy with the Administration today led the general belief that the path of the currency bill has been smoothed out, at least for a time. Apparently there is to be no attempt to hurry the senate unduly in its work unless conditions should develop in the banking and Currency committee that threatened to defeat or greatly delay legislation.

While President Wilson wants early action on the Glass bill, close friends of the Administration are making it clear now that they do not draw an arbitrary line at Dec. 1 as the date for its passage.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia today said the passage of the bill in January would be as much an administration victory as its enactment in November, and the same view is held by many other Senate Democrats, who are counselling the Administration against drawing party lines on the bill or attempting to prevent reasonable debate.

While the special session of congress ends Nov. 30 and the regular winter session begins Dec. 1, the transition will make no change in the status of the currency bill and will not affect the Senate's work on it. The senate committee today arranged its program of hearings to cover the time up to Oct. 25.

The general purposes of the administration bill were endorsed today before the senate committee by James G. Cannon, president of the Fourth National Bank of New York, and A.
F. Dawson, president of the First National Bank of Davenport Iowa. Both asserted the bill was designed to remedy in a large measure the defects in the present financial system. Both recommended a number of amendments.

Senator Smith, speaking of the measure, said:

"The enactment of a currency law is one of the biggest pieces of legislation with which congress has ever been confronted. I think a majority of the Senators have come to accept the principle of government supervision as absolutely essential. The bill probably will reach the senate about the middle of November and be thoroughly debated.

"It will not be an Administration defeat if the bill is not passed this session, or if it is changed considerably from the house bill. To obtain currency reform within a few months will be a splendid victory for President Wilson as well as congress."

Centenary of Birth of Lyman Trumbull

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 11.—Tomorrow will be the 100th anniversary of the birth of Lyman Trumbull, who for many years was a conspicuous figure in public life in Illinois. Born in Colchester, Conn., Oct. 12, 1813, Mr. Trumbull received his education in his native state, practiced law for a time in Georgia and then settled at Belleville Ill. In 1841 he became secretary of state and seven years later was elected one of the justices of the Illinois supreme court. He was elected as a Democratic representative in the 34th Congress in 1854, and the next year was elected United States senator, defeating James Shields, Gov. Matteson and Abraham Lincoln. Always a Democrat, he left his party however, on the slavery question and was twice elected as a Republican senator. Some years after the war he returned to the Democratic party. During his senatorial career of 18 years he was chairman of the judiciary committee.
He was the author of the civil rights bill and framed the 13th and 14th amendments. He voted against the impeachment of President Johnson, which action caused him to be defeated for re-election. Senator Trumbull's death occurred in this city June 25, 1896.

COMBINED FORCES

WILL FIGHT BOOTLEGGER

Ardmore, Oct. 18.—Federal District Attorney Hayden Linebaugh and United States Marshal B. A. Enloe are combining their forces with those of the county attorneys and sheriffs in the counties of the eastern district, to eliminate the whisky traffic. In counties where the county officers will cooperate with them they will make it hard sledding for dealers in liquor.

Prosecution in the county court is not a bar against prosecution in the federal court. After trials on whisky charges in the county courts, the records in the cases will be taken to the United States commissioners and warrants charging the defendants with violation of the federal law against the introduction of whisky will be sworn out, and the alleged violators will be tried in both courts.

Mr. Linebaugh stated that in instances where witnesses were out of the state, that he would take the cases and compel the attendance of witnesses under the federal laws, and where cases can be best handled in the counties, the county attorneys will take the cases. It was brought out in the conference that many convictions are evaded from two causes.
One of these causes is perjury, and the other cause is the getting of witnesses out of the way. Prosecutions for perjury will be made a specialty and with the help of the federal authorities no amount of money or time will be spared in bringing witnesses back who run away to evade the witness stand.

This combination of forces will be hard to handle and the whisky traffic will receive its hardest blow from that source.

Three in Race for Congress Seat.

Weeling, W. Va., Oct. 13.—A spirited campaign closed today in the First congressional district of West Virginia, preliminary to the special election to be held tomorrow to choose a successor to Representative John W.
Davis, who resigned his seat in the House to become solicitor general in the Wilson administration. Three candidates are contesting for the seat.
The Democratic nominee is Major Mansfield M. Neely, a prominent young lawyer of Fairmont. The Republican nominee is State Senator Julian C. Hearne, of this city, while the standard bearer of the Progressive party is George A. Laughlin, also of this city, who made the race against Davis last November on both the Republican and Progressive tickets.

Politicians generally regard the election tomorrow as the most important by-election to be held this fall.
The contest is attracting more than ordinary attention because of the large labor vote and the big manufacturing interests in the district. The new tariff law is now in operation, and though it is early for the people to pass a conclusive opinion on it, nevertheless the result of the election will be seized on as an expression of labor and the manufacturer toward the new tariff.

The district is normally republican. There have been elections in the last twenty years when the Republican candidates had majorities around six thousand, John W. Davis who carried the district twice, was greatly helped by his own popularity and his high standing as a lawyer. At the present time the Democrats are confident of holding the district, especially as the normal Republican vote is expected to be split between the regular Republican and Progressive candidates.

Becker Appeal Up for Argument.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The appeal in the case of Charles Becker, the former New York City police lieutenant, and the four gunmen, "Whitey" Lewis, "Lefty Louis," "Gyp the Blood," and "Dago Frank," who have been inmates of the death house at Sing Sing for more than a year, came up for argument before the Court of Appeals today. The five were convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, who was shot down in the front of the Hotel Metropole early on the morning of July 16, 1912. According to the evidence at the trial the murder was committed by the four gunmen at the instigation of Becker, whose alleged motive was to prevent the gambler from testifying before the grand jury in regard to police corruption.

Men Welcome Mother's Friend

A Duty that Every Man Ows to Those who Perpetuate the Race.

It is just as important that men should know of progressive methods in advance of motherhood. The suffering, pain and distress incident to child-bearing can be easily avoided by having at hand a bottle of Mother's Friend.

This is a wonderful, penetrating, external application that relieves all tension upon the muscles and enables them to expand without the painful strain upon the ligaments.
Thus there is avoided all those nervous spells; the tendency to nausea or morning sickness is counteracted, and a bright, sunny, happy disposition is preserved that reflects wonderfully upon the character and temperament of the little one soon to open its eyes in bewilderment at the joy of his arrival. You can obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store at $1.00, and it will be the best dollar's worth you ever obtained. It preserves the mother's health, enables her to make a quick and complete recovery, and thus with reserved strength she will eagerly devote herself to the care and attention which mean so much to the welfare of the child.
Write to the Bradford Regulator Co., 128 able and instructive book of guidance for
